WANAMAKERISM.

Something to Be Read in Connection with charges that have been made indicates the Statement Made on Monday Last by duced. He is playing a desperate game Thomas Dolan That He "Has Been Personally Cognizant of Every Farthing Expended in Behalf of Mr. Wanamaker During This Campaign" and That "Not One Cent Has Been Spent in Other Than Legitimate Channels"-A Partial Turning on of the Calcium Ray-Interview with Marshal Barring.

The following statement of facts is ! based upon the sworn reports of reliable officers of the law. These officers Everything in fact that we bought have for months been watching the growth of the senatorial boom of John Wanamaker from the inside. Their averments can be relied upon absolutely and speak for themselves. It should be said for Dr. N. C. Mackey, whose name is mentioned below, that his action was taken throughout upon advice, for the purpose of exposing the Wanamaker methods. The money he received was subsequently turned over to another and will in due time be refunded.

A skilled detective in the employ of the Barring & McSweeney agency, was provided with means of access to Mr. Wanamaker. This detective similar character to Mr. Frank Willing Leach, the avowed manager of Mr. Wanamaker's campaign. The story of this detective in detail as told in his original reports to his chief, is given below with the exception of unimportant details and matters not bearing directly upon the case:

"In obedience to instructions I called at the Girard building, in Philadelphia, on October 3rd, 1896, at the office of Frank Willing Leach and found that he was out of the city. I then went to see Mr. Wanamaker. He was in his private office at the store and I preprivate office at the store and I late-sented my letters of introduction. I told him my primary object in setting the latter was to make a bid for his general detective business, but it had since occurred to me that I could help him politically. By reason of my busi-ness I said I was in a position to learn without much trouble the inside of pary combinations that might be very advantageous to his management to know. You certainly can help me a great deal, said Mr. Wanamaker, the people are for me, but the politicians are against me, and you, of course, are in a position to ascertain their move-ments. I am very glad, indeed, to have your assistance and I will have one of my managers call upon you at once.

He then asked me where I stopped and where I could be seen. I told him I could be seen that evening: I said that I was pretty well acquainted with the situation in the Wyoming and Schuylkill valleys and I thought there were some people there who could be reached and he was much interested. I left him and several hours later sent him a note by messenger announcing that I would be at the Lafayette Hotel for the remainder of the day.

MR. VAN VALKENBERG APPEARS. About 6 p. m., E. A. Van Valkenburg called. He was a bright fellow and had the situation at his fingers' ends. He claimed in a general way that he was still friendly to Senator Quay, but that Quay must drop some of his lieutenants and come in with Wanamaker. The compromise could be made at any ime, he said, on these terms, but if children's Jackets, high storm collar, very heavy and stly fine wool, sizes 4, 6 and 8, lee $3.50.

Calo Deice $1.49

Calo Deice $1.49 this was not done the fight would go on indefinitely. The Wanamaker proodds, having back of them all the po-litical secret societies and a complete organization of their own unsuspected by the opposition all over the state that would financially be invincible.

I told him I had spoken to my chief about doing political work and haben told I could do as I pleased, provided that I did not neglect the world the firm. Van Valkenburg then sale that in Lackawanna county they had Farr all right, but Mackey was ur-certain, and I should approach him and if I could get satisfactory proofs or pledges in writing from him they would furnish him with assistance. I asked about Luzerne county, but was told it was all right for Wanamaker, but Van Valkenburg requested me to see Reynolds of Lackawanna; Ormo, of Schuylkill, and everybody in Somer-set, Armstrong and Westmoreland, He set. Armstrong and Westmorenad, he said that Magee would fix up Congress-man Huff, of Westmoreland, but they thought they had better tackle the members themselves and not bother about Huff. Van Valkenburg also sug-gested that I should look after holdover senators and men of influence and if I could produce results they would take care of me, as they were doing for all their people. Van Valkenburg said that detectives were after him all over the state, but had not got him in a hole yet and never would. TO SEE DR. MACKEY. On October 5th I went to Waverly in Lackawanna county to see Dr. N. C. Mackey, Republican candidate for the legislature. I introduced myself as a friend of Mr. Wanamaker's and said he had the organization and means to win and asked where he stood. The doctor said he had a bitter fight for the nomination and had spent $1500 and ould take from $500 to $1000 more to the would take from $300 to $1000 more to elect him. He had the sympathy of Mr Connell, a local power in politics, but sympathy did not pay bills and while he wasn't a boodler he would be glad it somebody would come to his gial if somebody would come to file rescue in the matter of expense and he would not forget it. I said I would give him my name and address and see him later; he wanted to know if I was known in the neighborhood and upon seing told I was not he said that was all right as it would not arouse suspic

ion. He drove over to Glenburn sta-ion and get on a train for Scranton and I joined him in the car. He said that in the country districts people went into politics for the love of it, but he had a ward of Scranton in his district and it took money there. He said he supposed he would hear from me in a week or two and it would be well to meet some-where else. I said I intended to carry that out and left him at the depok. On October 9th I called on Van Valkenburg at his rooms at 11th and Wal-nut streets, Philadelphia, and found he was out of town. The woman of the house said his brother was at the Stenton hotel and I went there and had a talk with him. This brother was Free A. Van Valkenburg. He said he had talked to his brother about me and they were glad to have my assistance and added that his brother would be home on the following Sunday and wanted to see me. In the afternoon I saw Frank Willing Leach but he was in a hurry and I had only a few min-get any information I could give him and my services would be appreciated also had means of introduction of a in proportion to their worth and asked similar character to Mr. Frank me to call again, I wrote to Mr. Van Valkenburg that night, as follows: Valkenburg that night, as follows:

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 9, 1895.

E. A. Van Valkenburg, esq.:
Dear Sir: I presume you are in receipt of my letter on the 7th inst, written at Hollidaysburg. I had bustnss in this city today but find you are absent. I called on your brother and had a short talk as to the situation. If you wish me to go any further with Mackey whom I have on the string you can write me to Box 255, Pittsburg. I expect to come east again next week sometime and if you so advise me I will arrange to call at Philadelphia. In the meantime I shall try to see some people in the western districts.

Yours truly,

MET VAN IN PITTSBURG. "I went to Pittsburg on October 10th and unexpectedly ran across Van Valkenburg at the Union depot. He immediately asked about Lackawanna and Dr. Mackey, He wanted to know if I could get him to sign the proper papers. I said I would get him to sign anything that Van Valkenburg drew up if I had the paper in one hand and the money in the other. He said he was afraid Mr. Connell would try to hold him in line. I der what they would do about it if you or anybody else in a scrape. Then he said, 'Let him sweat a week or two, furnished either of said persons either of get value received and that we are not thrown down.

report to him at Altoona. I then went to Greensburg as if acting on his suggestion. As near as I could find out the aforesaid. county was solid for Quay, every candidate nominated having to declare himself on that issue. There was but one member of the delegation who had any leaning toward Wanamaker but his constituents were against him. I wrote to Van Valkenburg on the 12th of October and told him that all the Westmoreland delegation were against us unless it might be Amos Trout, of Mt. Pleasant township.

AT ALTOONA. On October 17th I met Van Valkenburg at Altoona and made an engagement with him for 2 o'clock in the afternoon at his room in the hotel, where general situation. He said he had to be very careful in communicating with me as agents of the other side followed him everywhere. He said that my siz-ing-up of the situation in Westmoreland county was accurate and that a solid delegation for Quay had been nominated. He said that he expected to meet Campbell of Derry, that day and threaten him with defeat if he didn't give the necessary pledges. Van Valkenburg said that he had never up to that time openly given his consent to the defeat of antagonistic Republicans, but it might have to be done.

The talk then drifted to Dr. Mackey of Lackawanna, and Van Valkenburg eald that we might as well close with him and inquired how much it would take. I said the doctor told me it had already cost him $1.500 and might cost that much more. Van Valkenburg said. Well, of course, we can pay $1,500 but we won't pay him any more than $1,-000 if we can help it.

ON A BUSINESS BASIS.

"My people," he continued, and he afterwards mentioned Thomas Dolan. of Philadelphia, in this connection never question my judgment in matters of this kind, and for this reason I am very careful as I do not want to pay more for any specific object than is absolutely necessary. They are always willing to pay any price so they are sure of the goods. Sometimes I say to them that a certain point can be made for $2,000 and I am afterwards obliged to tell them it will take twice that amount, but they never object if I can assure them it will bring the result. We are doing business on that basis. We don't object to paying the price, but we want to see the results. That is why I want to do business with a man like you. I am continually haunted by suckers who come and say they can do certain things and want an advance of expense money but they don't mean what they say.
I said that if we won ' would want to share in the laurels. 'If we win,' he

BLANKENBURG'S BLUSTER.

He Insists That the Case Against Van Valkenburg Will Not Be Tried. Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 31.-In an interview tonight Rudolph Blankenburg, of Philadelphia, one of the Philadelphia leaders, said regarding the arrest of E. A. Van Valkenburg:

"It is one of the despicable and despairing methods which the opposition is playing as a last card. It will not avail them anything. We are amply prepared for any move that they may make. The outrageous nature of the to what extremity Senator Quay is re-We have never for a moment lost confidence in our ability to win this battle, and tactics such as those adopted by Senator Quay are calculated to win votes for our cause. Quay and his lieutenants are playing a bluff game. The case against Van Valkenburg will never come to trial. It is not in-tended that it shall come to trial. It vill be similar to the case of the druggist in Huntingdon who was arrested in July on a charge of slandering Penrose. It has been held over and has never reached the grand jury. Another case is that of the Rev. Duffy, of Philadelphia, who was held for court on a charge of libeling Penrose, but it has never been taken up. This last move is another of the same class.

HASTINGS IS SILENT.

Refuses to Declare Himself for Either Candidate---Van Valkenburg Makes a Statement.

Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 31.-Some life was infused into the senatorial fight tonight by the arrival of Senator Quay and Senator Penrose. They proceeded at once to the Lochiel headquarters and during the evening were besieged by politicians of high and low degree. Senator Quay again affirmed his belief in the figures given out ten days ago when utes' talk with him. He said he knew my employers and would be glad to he made the statement that Penrose would have 150 votes. Senator Penrose also expressed absolute confidence in the outcome of his campaign.

Rudolph Biankenburg also arrived this evening and stated that the Wanamaker headquarters at the Commonwealth would be opened tomorrow League on Walnut street, will also be spector general on Governor Black's thrown open.

Governor Hastings is being represented as a Penrose supporter, but he has steadfastly refused to declare himelf for anybody. Some exciting devlopments are expected soon on both sides, but the character of the disclosures is not known. The front of the Lochiel Hotel is bright with Penrose electrical Illimination and a Wanamaker electric arch will span Market street at the Commonwealth.

E. A. Van Valkenburg returned from Pottsville this evening and being asked for a statement as to the charges of bribery against him said:

The statement of J. N. Tillard made under outh before Justice of the Peace Kuebler, in the borough of Pottsville 31, 1896, in a certain prosecution instituted against me for conspiracy to bribe Web ster C. Weiss, wherein it is declared or in said I did not think so as he was not directly interested in the senatorial any conditions or in any way whatsoever directly interested in the senatorial any conditions or in any way whatsoeveright. 'Well,' he said finally, 'I won-either bribed or attempted to bribe or conspired with one or more to bribe or at were caught. I don't want to get you | temp to bribe Webster C. Weiss, and N I am having him watched but I have rectly or indirectly with money or any no one who can approach him as you thing of value to influence or induce either have done. We will meet him on his of the above named to vote for John terms but I want to be sure that we Wanamaker for United States schator. or to, in any way, influence or control the action of both or either of the above Van Valkenburg said they expected named in their office as members of the to do great things in Wesmoreland and scheral assembly of Pennsylvania, is, Fayette counties and wanted me to wholly, absolutely and unqualifiedly false run up there and look things up and and the said J. N. Tillard, well knew said and the said J. N. Tillard, well knew said statement to be false, untrue and perjured at the time he made it under outh as

QUAY WILL NOT TALK.

Is Confident That Penrose Will Be Elected, However.

Philadelphia, Dec. 31.—Senator Quay was here today for a few hours. was met on his arrival from Washington at Broad street station by Peter A. B. Widener, the traction railway magnate. Mr. Quay and Mr. Widener had a long private conversation the result of which is unknown and is merely a question of surmise. Mr. Widener will not talk about it, stating that it was a private conversation, and Mr. Quay ienied himself to newspaper men.

To his lieutenant whom he saw here today, Mr. Quay expressed himself as confident of Penrose's election. Quay is said to have gone to Harrisburg this afternoon.

MORTON REMOVES M'LEWEE.

The Inspector General Was Too Critical for His Own Good. Albany, N. Y., Dec. 31.—Governor Morton this afternoon took summary action and removed Frederick C. Mc Lewee, inspector general on his staff from office and at the same time appointed Captain Hoffman, of Elmira, in his place. Captain Hoffman has morning. Those of the Business Men's already been appointed to serve as in-

> Adjutant General McAlpin arrived at his office today. He was very silent and angry when he read Inspector General McLewee's report for the past year, which was published in the morning papers. The report contained severe criticism on Governor Morton as Iy been received. Spain is one of these commander in chief, Adjutant General McAlpin and brother officers and two others. The same law is, or was aroused the wrath of nearly every member of the National Guard in Albany from Governor Morton down.

Adjutant General McAlpin immediabout prepared to act. He immediatepromulgated an order for General McLewee's removal. A court martial was suggested, but this was thought to be too slow a proceedure, especially as General McLewee's 25 years of service in the guard would have ended tonight, when he goes out of office.

HOBART'S ESCORT TO WASHINGTON. The Third New Jersey Regiment Will Attend the Inauguration.

Elizabeth, N. J., Dec. 31.-At a meeting of the staff, field and company officers of the Third Regiment, N. G. N. J., held last evening, it was decided that the regiment, at its own expense, will go to Washington on March 4, as escort to Mr. Hobart when he is inaugurated as vice-president. All the companies in the regiment with the exception of Company D, of New Brunswick, voted to go. At least six hundred men will go.

The regiment is a representative one being composed of companies from this city, Rahway, Long Branch, Asbury Wooden Arch of Washington's Time Park and Somerville, besides Company D of New Brunswick. Officers of regiment said today that now that the Third Regiment had decided to pay its own way and go to Washington, it was probable that at least one other regiment would go.

BROKERS ARE QUIET.

Members of the Stock Exchange Desperse with Usual Ceremonies.

New York, Dec. 31.—The members of the stock exchange were very quiet today, not even the younger men feeling inclined to celebrate the close of the old year or welcome in the new. On the contrary, the past twelve months have been so dull and unsatisfactory to the brokers that there is a general feeling of depression.

The only evidence the members gave that they were conscious that tomorrow begins a new year was a procession which formed around the room and marched past the rostrum to allow each broker to shake hands with Parading wore rubber gloves and how Chairman McClure and Vice Chairman

COMPLICATIONS FEARED.

The Mission of the Steamer Dauntless to Cuba May Cause Trouble with Spain.

Washington, Dec. 31.-Embarrassing implications are anticipated if the steamer Dauntless sails for a Cuban port carrying a cargo of fire arms unless special permission is given her to do so by the Spanish consul at the port of clearances. Several of the great European powers have stringent laws on this subject, and the importation of arms is strictly prohibited, except where special permission has previouscountries, and France and England are until recently, in force in Russia.

In official circles the opinion prevails that any attempt on the part of the Dauntless to enter the Cuban port of ately sought Governor Morton at the Nuevitas without permission, to unload executive chamber. The governor had already read General McLewee's criticisms of his superior officers and was government and the confiscation of her cargo. It is authoritatively announced that no Spanish consul or vice consul will give this permission.

> On several occasions since the Cuban insurrection began arms have been shipped from the United States to Cuba, with the permission of the Spanish authorities, but in each instance it was known to whom they were consigned, and the purpose to which they would be applied. Where the consign ers were American planters or others who needed the arms to protect their property, no objection was made to the and protect the health at shipment.

On the contrary the Spanish government gave every facility for their prompt delivery. In the present case it is not known to whom the arms are consigned or to whom they will be delivered or for what purpose they are sent to Nuevitas, and hence, following the usual custom in such matters both the letter and spirit of the Spanish law will be strictly enforced.
